BAR HILL VILLAGE HALL MANAGEMENT COMMITTEE.

I have been asked to inform all organisations and interested parties that there will be a meeting of the Village Hall Management Committee on 20th NOVEMBER in the Green Hut at 8pm.

Under the Village Hall Constitution EVERY organisation in the village has the right to a place on the Management Committee. We are anxious that these places should be taken up and therefore we are reminding you of your right to membership.

Please would you ensure that there is a representative of your organisation at the meeting. As I hope you know there is a lot of hard work to be done and the more help we have the easier load on the Committee.

M. INGRAM.
Secretary.

SELF BUILD HOUSING SCHEME.

NAME. _____

ADDRESS. _____

Would those interested in this type of scheme please complete and return to Resident Association Secretary, 25, Oatlands Avenue.

This information is required to determine the need for this type of scheme on the village.

: BAR HILL PARISH COUNCIL NOTES.

The monthly meeting was held in the Green Hut on Tuesday 17th October 1978.

RESIGNATIONS OF DAVID ELLIS AND DEREK COUZIN-WOOD.

David Ellis has resigned from the Parish Council and nominations are being invited for his successor. For further details please see the notice board in the Mall.

Derek Couzin-Wood has also resigned his post as Works Department Manager and the question of his replacement will be discussed at the next Council meeting. The Council would like to record its appreciation of his past service.

BUS FARES.

As a result of the Chairman's correspondence with Eastern Counties, the bus fares to Drummer Street are being reduced to 30p from the Mall, (instead of 35p) and 28p from the roundabout (instead of 32p).

COMMUNAL TELEVISION AERIALS.

The current contract with the maintenance engineers is being revised and will now be on a "call out" basis. This will result in sizeable savings to the Council. The engineer will now attend as and when breakdowns occur.

LARGE HELICOPTERS AT OAKINGTON AIRFIELD.

Concern has been expressed over the increase in numbers and activity at Oakington and the Council has written to the Commanding Officer asking if the flights can be re-routed so as to avoid passing over Bar Hill.

SALE OF FREEHOLDS.

A further 10 freeholds have been sold since the last meeting, making the total sold now approximately 90. This makes a contribution of about £4000 towards the Village Hall Building Fund. Freeholds, except for those of Hollytrees, can still be purchased from Mrs. M. Doe, 41, Hollytrees, between 7pm and 9pm on weekdays only.

PLAY AREAS IN APPLETREES.

The Residents Association have asked if consideration can be given to replacing the proposed play areas in Appletrees with grassed areas and seats, as it is thought that these will be of more use to the expected type of population. This will be fully discussed at the next Council meeting.

NEXT MEETING.

The next meeting will be on Tuesday 21st November at 8 pm in the Green Hut, and will include a report on Bar Hill School and Swavesey Village College. Members of the public are welcome to attend.

BAR HILL COMMUNITY PRIMARY SCHOOL.
COMMUNITY USERS ASSOCIATION.

The Cambridgeshire County Council are, as you no doubt realise, well to the fore in the educational sphere. One has only to examine the Village College concept of secondary education to see what great strides they have made in the integration of adult and junior activities in rural communities. In this way, the utilisation of expensive buildings and equipment is greatly increased and very valuable educational and recreational facilities made available to all age groups, rather than their being used solely by the 11 to 16s.

Admirable as these arrangements are, there are the inevitable shortcomings in catering for small groups of people with specialised interests and the situation is not made easier by the widely scattered population that inhabits each Village College catchment area. Accordingly, some five years ago, it was decided to complement the Village Colleges by designating selected village schools as 'Community Primary' schools, enabling their use as adult centres outside normal school hours. Initially, six schools were selected to start the scheme on an experimental basis, Bar Hill being one of them. An absolute minimum of hard and fast rules and regulations allowed each to develop community activities in a manner best suited to their own particular needs. The success of the scheme has resulted in its expansion over the years so that there are now fifteen community primary schools in rural Cambridgeshire, all of which are providing an invaluable focal point for village activities. The 'community' schools have provided such a valuable service in rural areas, that they are beginning to extend into the urban areas where large new estates have been developed, providing a much needed centre of activity. The Cherry Hinton school in Cambridge has recently received the 'Community' designation, so you can be sure that we were 'in at the start' of what will be a permanent feature of Cambridgeshire's educational arrangements. Here in Bar Hill, a Community School Users Association was formed to co-ordinate community activities, the chairman- from an adult group using the school in the evening-working in close collaboration with the Headmaster and the Community Tutor, a member of the school staff. The CSUA chairman also attends meetings of the school Managers, acting as spokesman for community aspects of school life. At the present time, there are some twenty-odd groups, with interests ranging from Karate to Wine & Beer Making, using the school in the evenings, as you can see from the lists, we cater for all tastes! Although the CSUA is not primarily a fund raising organisation, member groups are required to pay a very moderate subscription to the association and funds are, therefore available to allow for small loans to be made to member groups when required. The association does also do its best to provide facilities for the school which may be of benefit to both 'school' and 'community' users. For example, the CSUA has provided a projection screen which has proved useful to all school users, and external lighting at strategic points round the school building.

Contd.

Contd.

It has also equipped the 'coffee bar' used on a 'self help' basis in the evenings.

All groups forming the C.S.U.A. are always happy to enrol new members, so why not contact the secretary of any group in whose activities you would like to join? If your particular interest isn't listed, form your own group! Applications for membership of the C.S.U.A. from new groups getting under way are always welcome, fees are very reasonable - less than £1 per member gives you use of a room in the school for one evening each week throughout the school year - and you run your group in your way. The C.S.U.A. won't interfere unless your activities inconvenience other users, although the Community Tutor is always available with advice and assistance should you need any help.

Just think how your youngsters would love their birthday or Christmas party to include a film show! It isn't nearly as expensive as you might think either. For example, a full half hour of colour cartoons, projected in your own living room, would cost less than a fiver. For details, contact:-
TERRY COLLINS, 23, OATLANDS AVENUE, (CRAFTS HILL 80359).

The INFORMATION CENTRE is now open

For many years we have been much involved in the sale of residential properties in the village. We have often considered that a local extension to our service would be desirable and have therefore agreed with Bar Hill Developments to take over the running of the Information Centre.

We feel this is the next logical step in our association with the development of the village and to the local community. We will provide service relating to both new and existing residential properties together with the sales and letting of commercial properties.
